

Why You Should Eat School Meals:

Increases Exposure to New Foods

School meals are a great way to expose young children to diverse foods and teach them that food can be fun! At school, students are acquainted with a variety of healthy foods.

